Be More Popcorn talks about the awkward situations of Riley and her friends, in a lgbti context, including sex, drugs and alcohol.

What is Be More Popcorn?

Be More Popcorn is an animated LGBT show about a group of six friends in their adult life. The show is focused on their awkward experiences, ironic situations, bad decisions and hilarious consequences. It will be the first entirely LGBT animated TV show and it will talk about the queer world in an ironic way. It's smart and daring, it will be a nice change of pace for the audience, it will show the LGBT world as it is.

Anyone who realizes to be homosexual meets some difficulties in his life, like the coming out with friends or family, or workmates. But when you find someone who has the same peculiarity as you, it will become your family.

Be More Popcorn is a show about love, friendship and courage to be what you want and what you really are, without fears, because there's absolutely nothing wrong to be a queer. Your sexuality is your point of strength.

We're all equal, like corn seeds. We are all born in the same shape. But, growing up, inside some of us, something different grows up and finally explodes. It's our sexuality, different, loud, traumatic but inevitable. It reveals to us to be homosexual. We're like corn kernel inside, but more particular, more fancy outside. We're popcorn. So, just Be More Popcorn!

The target of the show is young adult/ adult.

Each episode will be 20 minutes long

Be More Popcorn has been developed as a TV Series launching with a 20 minutes opening story, a pilot that lays the foundations for a second episode, that I already wrote. I have written the synopsis of 12 episodes, 20 minutes long.

This project can have a bright future, because it's a fresh cartoon style with new contents and a popular theme, it will be the first entirely LGBT animated TV series and it will be a good news for LGBT and straight people, to see the queer world in a different, ironic way. It's a smart and bold cartoon.

Why Be more popcorn?

I decided to call my cartoon Be more popcorn because all of us are born equally, like, for example, corn seeds.
They are all equals.

But some of us, growing up, become more eccentric,
more fancy, something different.
The homosexuality blowing up in us, like corn seeds become popcorn.
It is the explanations of a gay person.

The gay person is always a corn seed, just like everybody, he/she is not different in the soul, is just different in the way he/she lives his/her life.

Popcorn are just gay corn seeds, so why we have to hide ourselves or deny to be popcorn?
Just Be more popcorn!

9 - Black out

Marlon has a new workmate at the bretharian restaurant. He's very cute and Marlon tries to get noticed by him with eccentric methods. That guy seems to be immune to Marlon's charming. How dare he?

Theodora's parents are out of town for a week: she will give a big party and hires Max and Anjelica to animate the night. Riley and Paulette are at work: the restaurant is so full and they have to run fast to serve all the clients. But a stupid client makes a mess: he's just impossible and he tries several times to bother Paulette. Riley fixes the situation and finally gets points with Paulette, who discovers that Riley is not so bad.

After work, they decide to go to Theodora's party and they have fun together, they start to drink.

Marlon is angry because of that workmate, he's got to invent something to conquer him.

Things get wild quickly.

Theodora is too drunk, she tries to pin to Riley a girl who, for her, is perfect for Riley. The girl starts to approach Riley, but she's got eyes only for Paulette.

Suddenly, there's a black out in all the city. At the party, Riley is between that girl and Paulette. One of them kisses Riley.

The power back on. Marlon is having sex with the workmate on a table. Those two get fired and arrested for lewd acts in a public place. Riley is still between the girl and Paulette. She tries to figure out who kisses her. The girl is smiling and Paulette is embarrassed.

Theodora a while ago, invents an infrared camera that doesn't work with electricity, to watch for UFOs over her house.

They decide to see what that camera records.

Marlon posts on his social account everything happens to him in jail. He becomes an internet star. He says he knows Angel, so the police call him.

Meanwhile, Theodora and Riley are watching the registration, but that camera doesn't work very well, the video is confused, they can't understand who is the kisser girl.

Angel comes to the police station to get Marlon out of jail. Riley decides to ask that girl if she kisses her. The girl doesn't know what she's talking about. Riley runs to Paulette, but she's gone.
